Product Diversity and Capacity Expansion

At A. J. Rose product diversity and capacity expansion continues to tap new markets. Rose Engineered Products India, and our associations throughout the east, have expanded A. J. Rose North America with many new product offerings and services now available to our North American customers; low volume/high volume, stampings, assemblies, forgings, machinings, castings, spun components and much more.

While Precision Manufacturing in both Cleveland Plant locations are exhibiting steady growth, our warehouse and distribution activities have expanded more to include a variety of new markets, products and customers.
